Modern Slavery Statement

Last updated – 12th March 2026

Modern Slavery Statement

Our commitment

BlindSpot Solutions Pty Ltd is committed to running its business ethically, responsibly, and with respect for human rights.

We do not tolerate modern slavery, forced labour, human trafficking, servitude, or other forms of exploitation in our business or in the suppliers and service providers we work with.

Our business and risk profile

BlindSpot Solutions Pty Ltd is a professional services business. We recognise that the risk of modern slavery in our direct day-to-day operations is relatively low.

Even so, we understand that risk can still exist in broader supply chains, particularly where goods or services are provided through third parties, outsourced support, technology providers, contractors, or other external suppliers.

Our approach

We aim to reduce this risk by working with reputable suppliers, making sensible checks where appropriate, and expecting the people and organisations we work with to comply with applicable laws and ethical employment practices.

We also expect anyone working with us or for us to treat people fairly, lawfully, and with respect.

Raising concerns and responding

If we become aware of concerns relating to modern slavery or exploitative labour practices, we will take them seriously and consider what action is appropriate.

Modern Slavery Statement

This may include making further enquiries, reviewing the supplier relationship, and taking steps to address the issue where needed.

Ongoing review

BlindSpot Solutions Pty Ltd is committed to reviewing and improving its approach over time as the business grows.

We will continue to strengthen our practices in a way that is proportionate to the size and nature of the business.
